Cindy,

Thank you very much for helping out with the changes my managers wanted to make to in the manuscript.

Please note that I have further softened the language in lines 193-194 to make this more acceptable to them. I hope you will also find this acceptable.

Please understand that my supervisors are very sensitive to the wording in this manuscript because I think they know that it will have a very high profile once it is published.

EPA is a very fractured organization, and my group, the Office of Research and Development, does not want to cause problems for the Office of Water (OW). UCMR3 is a product of OW and we get funding and support from OW.

In any case, I think this is excellent work and I've really enjoyed working with you on this project!

Thank you very much,

Andy
